*Fiscal Court
increases
Gateway funding*

By Roger McKinney, Reporter
The Pendleton County Fiscal Court approved a motion to increase county contributions to Gateway Community and Technical College from $8,000 to $12,000 per year. Gateway now educates 100 students in Pendleton County.

Other business conducted by the Fiscal Court in the June 11, 2013 meeting:

- Approved the Three Rivers Health District's Immunization Agreement.
- Approved contributions of $5,000 per year for five years or $25,000 to the Northern Pendleton Fire District to fund the purchase of a new fire truck pumper.
- Judge Bertram informed the court that the long term recovery committee is in the process of applying for a 501C3 tax exempt status.
- Discussed the city of Falmouth's letter informing the court that they no longer want to take part in the county's animal control contract. Falmouth intends to hire its own animal control officer. Judge Bertram talked about building a larger county animal shelter in a new location.

Butler City Council news

Butler Fire Chief David Marquardt talked about getting more firefighters for the city of Butler at the June 3 council meeting. He also said there will be coverage for Butler and Falmouth on fireworks night.

Butler Police Chief Ken Hale gave the police report consisting of 94 calls, seven state citations, two state warnings and three arrests. He stated that he thought we had a great parade and celebration in honor of the veterans. Chief Hale is scheduling a bike ride for June 29 in the River Valley parking lot. Councilman Gerald McElfresh asked the chief about two cars that have been parked by the city park a few

Brady Purdy, a 2013 Pendleton County graduate, signed a Letter of Intent with Ohio Mid-Western College on Friday, June 14. He is the son of Chuck and Sharon

Purdy and the grandson of May Purdy and the late Tom Purdy and L.T. and Patty Varner, all of Falmouth.

Brady has a dual interest in Ohio Mid-Western, that of continuing playing baseball and in fulfilling the call to ministry he has on his life, both of which he feels this college will provide.

"I am very proud of Brady for getting the opportunity to use his baseball skills to further his education," shares

Pendleton Wildcats coach Aaron Biddle. "I believe Brady will have a successful career at Ohio Mid-West and the school will be good for him in getting him ready for his career path."

Come out and join in all the fun activities happening that evening at the Pendleton County Fairgrounds in Falmouth. You can help Oliver celebrate his winning title as this year's reigning Cutest Pet.

Pendleton DataFarm, LLC Has Changed Its Name

Pendleton DataFarm, LLC has changed its name to Court Street USA, LLC.

The ownership, structures, mission and location in the former Southern States Farm Supply building remain the same.

Pendleton DataFarm was created in 2003 as a data and workflow processing company. The owners of Pendleton DataFarm were already running Document Retrieval Network which provided copies of real estate documents recorded at county courthouses nationwide. Their idea was to take on other data intensive projects while developing a processing center that could provide Document Retrieval Network with an administrative foundation to support its growth.

As time went on Document Retrieval Network began to provide title search services to mortgage banks, title insurance companies and law firms. The growth in this division required the full attention of the management, and the company decided to stop taking on processing projects for outside companies.

The company has expanded to nearly 100 employees and 2600 approved independent contractors nationwide. In fact,

Court Street USA has become the largest real estate title search company in Kentucky and in the region. The company believes that they process more title searches in the greater Lexington, Louisville, NKY, and Cincinnati regions than any other company. In addition to their robust local and regional presence, Court Street USA is quickly earning a reputation for being one of the best nationwide service providers in their industry. Nathan Miller, the Managing Partner said, "The new Court Street USA name better suits the identity and future direction of the company. Our Logo says 'Court Street USA... We Are There! We are at every courthouse (often situated on Court Street in many cities).

If a client needs something we can get it... if they need a person with the knowledge of the particular system and methods in that county and state... we are there!

The Pendleton DataFarm phase of our company history and growth is very positive and important. We are hoping to see even more dynamic growth under the Court Street USA phase which is just beginning."

Offenders from

Boy rescues kitten

Someone walking by at the intersection of Shelby Street and U.S. 27 at 1:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon saved the life of a kitten. The walkers heard a cat meowing in a storm drain. They called dispatch and Falmouth Police Officer Mike Coppage responded. Coppage opened the man hole, but the space was too small for him to reach the kitten.

Falmouth city employee Joe Pike happened by and stopped to see what was the matter. Pike had his 4-year-old-son Laine Pike with him. Laine crawled down into the man hole and was able to get hold of the kitten and pull it to safety. Apparently the cat had fallen in there. What a good deed done for the kitten.

Relay for Life thankful for local business' help

Relay for Life in Pendleton County has been very fortunate to have businesses sell moons and stars for several years to help raise money for the fight against cancer. This year we had one business to raise $1000 for Relay by selling those moons and stars! Wyatt's Super Valu's cashiers decided to set a goal for themselves to raise $1,000 in memory of former fellow employee, Phyllis Wolfe, who recently lost her battle with cancer.

They worked very hard and sold 918 moons and stars at $1 each in just three weeks. Because of their diligence Wyatt's owner, Dixie Owen donated the remaining amount to raise the $1000. Relay for Life appreciates all that Wyatt's employees and Mrs. Owen did and all the customers that participated in buying the moons and stars. Let's all continue to fight the fight against cancer one dollar at a time.

The Roebling Festival to be held in Covington, June 22

RoeblingFest 2013 will be held on Saturday, June 22 at Roebling Point in Covington. Tours of the John A. Roebling Bridge have been the focus of the festival since its inception in 2004.

Tours of the Roebling Murals on the Covington floodwall, tours of the statues along Riverside Drive -- including a visit to the Dan Beard home, and a new Roebling Heritage Sites tour led by historian and author Don Heidrich Tolzmann will also be available at RoeblingFest.

The tours are provided by the Covington - Cincinnati Suspension Bridge Committee, the citizen's group responsible for the decorative lighting of the bridge and the flags flying atop the towers. Tour tickets will be available for purchase at the group's history tent. Any profits will go toward enhancement of the bridge -- with current emphasis on the upgraded lighting system.

The John A. Roebling Bridge was the proto-type for the more famous Brooklyn Bridge. At its completion in 1867 it was the world's longest bridge span. The structure is a National Historic Landmark and a National Civil Engineering Landmark. The bridge tour highlights historic facts and structural features of this iconic span.

The Roebling Murals tour will be led by Karl Lietzenmayer, editor of Northern Kentucky Heritage magazine, who gave advice and guidance to the artist during the creation of these artworks. The artist was Robert Dafford, and the project was promoted by Legacy, the young-professionals group established by Forward Quest.

The Riverwalk Statues tour points out the roles played by the various individuals in the history of our area. The statues depict Roebling, Simon Kenton, Mary Greene, James Bradley, Chief Little Turtle, John James Audubon, and Daniel Carter Beard. The tour ends with a visit to the Dan Beard home -- the other National Historic Landmark in Kenton County. Beard was one

KHS to Host Food for Thought: 19th Century Pottery Traditions in Northern Kentucky

The Kentucky Historical Society (KHS) will host a "Food for Thought" luncheon program, "What a Crock! 19th Century Pottery Traditions in Northern Kentucky" with independent scholar and potter Brenda Hornsby Heindl, at noon Wednesday, June 19, at the Thomas D. Clark Center for Kentucky History in downtown Frankfort.

The surviving works of George Swingle, of Vanceburg; John and Ezekiel Wood, and Isaac Thomas, of Maysville, are important examples of early Kentucky stoneware and frontier capitalism. Focusing on these three pieces of salt-glazed stoneware pottery, now in the collection of the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts, and using illustrative photographs and her own experience as a potter at North Carolina's Liberty Stoneware, Heindl will lead an informative foray into the world of clay, kilns, family traditions, trade and flatboating.

The menu for the luncheon features strawberry spinach salad with poppy seed dressing, chicken salad on croissants, marinated asparagus, pasta salad, coconut pound cake with fresh berries, iced tea and coffee.

Tickets to the "Food for Thought" luncheon are $20 for KHS members and $25 for other patrons. To make a reservation, contact Julia Curry at 502-564-1792, ext. 4414. Reservations are required by Friday, June 14.

The Liberty Cafe - "It's like going home for dinner"

Butler's newest family dining establishment, The Liberty Cafe, is now open for business and owner/operator Carolee Johnston would like to invite the public to stop by and try out her selection of delicious homemade delights. Everything on the menu is made on site using locally grown and organic ingredients, no processed or frozen foods. "If I can't make it then I don't serve it," said Johnston, who was born and raised in Pendleton County. Whether it be breakfast, lunch or dinner, all items are made fresh daily. The Liberty Cafe primarily services the breakfast and lunch crowds but a down-home dinner is planned every Friday night with live entertainment provided. From homemade biscuits and gravy to fried chicken dinners there's always sure to be something on the menu that tempts your taste buds. Johnston's menu is always in constant change depending on the season and what ingredients she can find at the local markets. She can also modify the food items she is serving to accommodate strict or specific diets. "It's like going home for dinner except we don't ask you to do the dishes," said Johnston. The Liberty Cafe is located at 201 Mill Street in Butler. Their hours of operation are 7 a.m. - 3 p.m., Tuesday - Saturday; 5 - 8 p.m., Friday; and 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Sunday; closed Mondays. If you have any questions, would like to order carry-out or reserve yourself a table for the popular Friday night dinner and/or Sunday morning brunch please call The Liberty Cafe at 859-472-0072. You can also check them out on Facebook to see their specials and new items. "Come on in, enjoy your food, time and conversation," invites Johnston. "It's a hometown kind of place with a great atmosphere where you're bound to see someone you know!"

Baseball

Having been playing baseball since he was five years old, beginning with Tee Ball, Brady played six years of baseball on the Pendleton County Wildcats.

He played two summers on the Kentucky Bucs, an organization dedicated to promoting youth baseball at its finest. Having the opportunity to play on a select team like the Kentucky Bucs was a wonderful experience offers the Purdys. There was an abundance of encouragement and support and the coaches Marty Moore and Mike Hart were great to work with.

In high school, he mainly pitched and played outfield, but also played shortstop on occasion. At Ohio Mid-Western he will be used as a pitcher.

Adam Hollingsworth, the coach at Ohio Mid-West says, "We're looking forward to Brady coming. Absolutely!"

"I think he'll fit right in as a freshman pitcher and may develop into a position player as well. His ministry interest academically will make him a good fit for a leader on the field and a spiritual leader."

Brady gives credit to God for his choosing Ohio Mid-West. "He's leading me to it," says Brady. "God's

Antique machinery show had a great turnout which exceeded past years

Licking Valley Antique Machinery Association, LLC is proud to announce that their recent show was the best yet. They had a large amount of tractors, stationary engines and machinery from various counties. A large number of families and individuals came out to look at the equipment and enjoy a beautiful weekend. Saturday afternoon even the youngsters got involved in the pedal tractor pull. All who participated came away as winners with ribbons and prizes. The DJ (Allmark Sales, owned by David Fultz from Brooksville) did an excellent job of keeping everyone aware of the daily events along with providing music all day long. The Knights Of Columbus provided the event with a terrific venue along with some fabulous cuisine. The affair had great fish fry on Friday evening, a hearty breakfast, hot food and cold drinks all day long Saturday.

Many businesses placed ads in our show booklet and donated items for the silent auction along with promotional items passed out at our registration tent. The support of these businesses continually fund a scholarship program. So far the programs are set up in Campbell and Pendleton counties. Funding these scholarships to young students pursuing a higher education in the field of agriculture and agriculture related business is the main goal of the shows. This is the third year for funding and will continue for a long time. Continued support for all businesses that help promote this show from all those that attended the show or received our show books is appreciated.

Those affiliated with the event would like to thank everyone for helping with the show and those who came out with tractors, engines and equipment to participate in the show. "We hope everyone who attended enjoyed themselves and look forward to seeing you all again next year."

Next year's show will be at the same location on June the 6 and 7 (Friday and Saturday).

Elias Angell and Agnes Wayatt were married on June 18, 1824 in Pendleton County.

Pendleton County teens work to improve health in the community

In a state where over 50% of the citizens are overweight, a third are addicted to the nicotine in cigarettes, and a quarter of births come as a result of teenage pregnancies*, it's evident that a change must take place in order for Kentucky to regain its reputation as a health conscious, outdoors activity-driven state.

The Kentucky Teen Institute, a youth-based health advocacy program established by the Kentucky YMCA Youth Association, has partnered with the University of Louisville Department of Health and Sport Sciences and will be holding its summer conference on U of L's campus. The conference will take place June 23-27.

Stacie Steinbock, director of the Kentucky Teen Institute, says "I started this program because teens are often seen as the problem, rather than the solution. At KTI, we have seen firsthand what powerful leaders teens can be for health issues in their families, schools and communities."

By honoring the unique role high school students have to offer as leaders and advocates, KTI seeks to improve the mental, physical and emotional health of Kentucky. KTI will generate peer awareness and help participants develop the skills, knowledge and attitudes they need to make healthy choices. Through leadership training and supportive adult partnerships, KTI empowers young people to implement community-based programs and youth-led initiatives.

"At the Y we are committed to empowering youth voices. KTI helps young people to translate their passions into actions," said KY YMCA executive director Ben Reno-Weber.

Last year, seven teams from counties around the state met to discuss health and safety issues they wished to make an impact on, such as stress, depression and suicide, substance abuse, type 2 diabetes, and youth violence. This year, ten teams from Perry, Jefferson, Oldham, Monroe, Henry, Barren, Rockcastle, and Fayette counties, each with their own adult advisor, will attend the summer conference to present projects the teams have organized and executed.

At the 2013 conference, teens will study the issues presented in order to gain a better understanding of the importance of health and safety, learn advocacy skills with which to promote a higher standard for health and wellness, and develop a youth-led project to address a key issue of their choice that affects their school or community. Students will also be given the opportunity to speak with legislators about health issues and how best to implement their projects.

BBB tips for attending bridal expos

The wedding planning season is in full swing - and bridal expos are headed to the Louisville area in the coming weeks! Your Better Business Bureau (BBB) has helpful tips for future brides and bridesmaids attending a show.

Create a new email just for the show. Whether you are pre-registering or signing up at the door, it is a good idea to create a new email for wedding vendor communication. This allows the bride to keep track of all of the special offers and electronic newsletters she will likely receive after attending the show. This can also help reduce high volumes of email in your personal inbox.

Take a notebook or pad and pen. As you walk around the show, you may see something you hadn't thought of or you may want the name of the designer of a wedding gown during the fashion show. Bring something to write with because you may get home and have forgotten everything you wanted to remember!

Bring labels. Bring preprinted labels that include your name, wedding date, wedding locale, mailing address, and e-mail address. Nearly every vendor will ask for your name or invite you to enter their drawings for special gifts and prizes. Having these labels will save you from having to write your name and address multiple times. Remember to only give your phone number out if you really want a company to contact you. Once you hand out your phone number, you establish a relationship with the company and that excludes you from the "Do Not Call" registry.

Ask the right questions. Before falling in love with a vendor and their services, ask if the company is available for your wedding date. Also ask whether the special packages and pricing being offered are available after the show and remember to get a list of references.

Bring someone you trust. BBB recommends taking someone to the expo that is not as emotionally and financially connected to the wedding planning as the bride. This individual may provide a different, yet helpful, perspective when talking with vendors and visiting booths.

Research the vendor before signing a contract. The goal of a bridal expo vendor is to make connections, get exposure, and attract the right brides for their services. However, it is crucial to know the company's track record by taking the time to do follow up research on their reputation in the industry. Start by reading the vendor's BBB Business Review at www.bbb.org.

Get all sales promises in writing. Written contracts should include specific dates, products, prices, name brands, etc. and be signed by all parties involved. Cancellation policies should also be included in the contracts.

Pay with a credit card. They offer consumers added protection in the event of a problem, because you can dispute the charges. Checks and cash don't offer this protection.

Set a budget...and stick to it! To find a list of BBB Accredited Businesses in the wedding industry, visit www.bbb.org and click on the Accredited Business Directory.

Kentucky Farm Bureau's Bluegrass & Backroads nominated for Emmy® Award

Kentucky Farm Bureau's Bluegrass & Backroads, a 30-minute television program that explores the agricultural, cultural, historical and artistic stories unique to the state, was nominated this week for an Emmy® Award. The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences (NATAS) announced nominees for the 49th Annual Ohio Valley Regional Emmy® Awards, giving the nod to Kentucky Farm Bureau's Bluegrass & Backroads for Best Magazine Feature/Segment.

The show's Emmy®-nominated segment provides viewers with the rich backstory of renowned Kentucky artist, Mitchell Tolle, and his passion for drawing and painting the people and landscapes of the commonwealth. Tolle, a native of Berea, is also an accomplished author, storyteller and pastor of a church in Lexington, but most widely known for his tremendous artistic talents.

"Mitchell Tolle is an amazing artist and a fantastic interview," said Matt Hilton, Kentucky Farm Bureau's video production specialist. "The segment quickly started to take shape the moment we sat down and listened to him unpack his story."

Hilton and Bob Shrader make up Kentucky Farm Bureau's two-man video production team, and are responsible for writing, filming, interviewing, hosting, directing and editing each show. The duo is now busy filming the 11th season of Bluegrass & Backroads.

"We are continually blessed to meet and interview so many fascinating people on Bluegrass & Backroads," said Shrader. "Having our peers recognize those same encounters as unique is that much more special."

The Ohio Valley Chapter of NATAS will unveil all the official winners of the coveted Emmy® Awards on July 20th during a black-tie dinner held at the Hilton Cincinnati Netherland Plaza in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Including this year's nomination, Bluegrass & Backroads has now been nominated for a total of eight Emmy® Awards over the show's history, and has won the prestigious award three times.

Bluegrass & Backroads is a weekly program aired regionally on the Kentucky Educational Television (KET) networks, and nationally via satellite on RFD-TV through Dish Network, DirecTV and several major cable outlets. For a complete list of the stations and schedule on which Bluegrass & Backroads airs, or to view the show's Emmy®-winning segments and other episodes streaming online, visit bluegrassandbackroads.com.

Colonoscopy/Colon Resection

A colonoscopy is a test that allows your doctor to look at the inner lining of your large intestine. Using a thin, flexible tube called a colonoscope, your doctor can find ulcers, polyps, tumors and areas of inflammation and bleeding. It's the number one way to diagnose colon cancer, and it's recommended as a precautionary measure for all men age 50 or older.

▶ Once a colonoscopy is performed and issues are uncovered, it may be necessary for further surgical treatment known as colon resection. A colon resection may be needed to treat certain disorders of the digestive tract, such as colorectal cancer, bowel obstruction, Crohn's disease, and diverticulitis. A colon resection, otherwise known as a colectomy, may cure your condition or significantly reduce your digestive symptoms.

▶ Most colon resections are an open abdominal procedure. Some can be performed laparoscopically. Surgeons, such as Dr. Karl Schulstad, operate through 4 or 5 small openings (each about a quarter-inch long), while watching an enlarged image of the patient's internal organs on a television monitor. In some cases, one of the small openings may be lengthened to 2 or 3 inches to complete the procedure. While using several cannulas, or narrow, tube-like instruments, Dr. Schulstad is able to work inside and remove part of the colon. The goal is to remove diseased areas, stop the spread of disease within the colon and alleviate pain and discomfort.

▶ Colon resection is performed under general anesthesia at Harrison Memorial Hospital's operating suites by Dr. Schulstad. Most patients are encouraged to be out of bed the day following surgery and to walk. Most daily normal activities can be resumed in one to two weeks.

If you're considering surgery, talk to Dr. Schulstad. Simply call 859.234.0390 for more information and a consultation.

Old Men Rounding Third and Sliding Toward Home

This article is about the Park Board golf outing on June 12, 2013. (My apology for the mixed metaphor.) But if this piece is to make much sense, I need to explain a couple of things about golf in Pendleton County. First, persons with handicaps get no sympathy from those who are well and healthy and strong. Those who are one-legged, crippled, half-blind, recovering from bypass surgery, or walking with a cane, are expected to compete with teams who have young bucks who can hit the golf ball over 300 yards, persons like Eric Conrad or Joe Jones. I had called John Steele who runs this event and suggested that my team should be allowed to hit from the women's tees; and I was serious! I finally hanged up..... he wouldn't stop laughing! There's a golf story that illustrates this callous disregard for the handicapped: Pete Steele pulled into Golfer David Pribble's driveway, lowered his window and asked, "I heard Golfer Collins died on the golf course yesterday?"

"Yeah," Pribble replied, "had a heart attack on # 3 hole. Slowed us down, too! From there to # 9, it was hit, then drag Collins to the next hole, hit and drag, hit and drag!" Pribble cackled impishly.

Pete grinned, but then sobered, "I hate that; I kinda liked that old buzzard, but it's true that he always complained a lot!"

Pete exemplified another characteristic of Pendleton golf: schadenfreude. Your opponent pretends to have sympathy, but inwardly he is rejoicing that it wasn't he. Like when you make a bad shot, and he says, "I am sorry that you did that!"

Now back to the golf outing. My team had Bob Downard from Bracken County, age, 80; John Couch from Middletown, Ohio, age 79; Carol Wolfe from Boss-Dunaway, age 81; and me, 77, but with a back that straightens only with pain.

And we played as well as we could. Carol played the best that I had seen him in several years, making several long putts. And, the rest of us made a good shot now and then. We made four birds, but had two bogeys for a final score of 70. Respectable, we thought!

But then Gerald Fields had loaded a team and shot 11 under for a score of 61. Very good, very good, indeed!

But, John Steele had the audacity of mentioning again, during the awards presentation, that I had requested to hit from the women's tees, and he said that as long as he could breathe, that such was not going to happen.

I spoke up and said, "Man, someday you'll get old and walk with a cane and others will make fun of you, and I'll just smile from up there! I may turn your name in to The Association for the Prevention of Abuse to the Elderly!"

John Couch carried my clubs to my vehicle, and I never looked back!

As a youngster during the 50's, an individual in my neighborhood did not have true Christian credentials until he accepted Christ and was baptized. Now please don't think that this ol' 'Back Yonder' character has turned preacher, but even at 70, I still feel this belief is quite in line with what the Master taught.

Youth during the 50's did not have all the social gatherings like kids of today. The few events at school were few and most other gatherings happened at church. We had to be observant of the few gatherings that happened in our neighborhood and take advantage of every opportunity. Otherwise we did not get to go anywhere.

I was perhaps 12 years of age, and even though I was 'slow', I had just begun to notice a neighbor girl. She and her family attended a church a little bit more 'spirited' than I was used to. Even though I was a baptized believer, when she asked me to go to revival services with her, I did not hesitate. I have to be honest. I was really more interested in her than I was in the spiritual aspect of the revival.

The revival was to begin on a Monday night and last for the entire week to conclude with a Saturday afternoon baptismal service for those who had come forward during the week to make their confession of faith.

Now, many young readers have to realize that there were no inside baptisteries in churches like today. All baptizing took place in creeks or rivers. In fact, many older church members would not 'stand for an inside baptismal service'. They felt that one should be baptized like John the Baptist and Jesus: "IN THE RIVER".

After a week of "Hell fire and brimstone" preaching there were five who had come forth to confess. The most noticeable was a young man of twenty-seven. His name was Bill and he had a heart of gold, but he was just a little bit 'unbalanced'. He had taken the week's revival messages "hook, line, and sinker". He felt he was totally committed and desired to change his life from a serious sinner to a new life free from the burdens of sin.

Bill had been raised in not the best of surroundings. He was in the habit of cursing and swearing, and most of his neighbors had gotten used to his choice of words and considered him harmless.

The Saturday afternoon of the baptismal service was bright and cool for a spring day. The four younger converts were baptized and much praise and celebration occurred with loud amens.

Now was Bill's turn. The minister held a handkerchief over Bill's nose and dunked him in the water.

Bill came up blowing like a killer whale and shouting to the top of his lungs, "Hallelujah! .....Praise the Lord!" One could tell that the water was cold.

Some of us boys commented, "Bill was that water cold?"

Because of all the excitement and the frigid water, Bill yelled, "You G--- D---- right it was cold!"

Bill attended church for a while, but he seemed to never take 'root'. He finally cooled off spiritually and never made a strong convert.

Losing a child is heart breaking in every situation

By Glenn Mollette
"Abortion"

Celebrating family on these summer holidays or any day is always a special day.

However, all holidays are tough days for many. While millions celebrate others wonder about what might have been. Some have lost a child while others made tragic decisions to end a life.

Abortion is sad and heartbreaking. I oppose abortion. I do not believe many people want to go through with an abortion. Over the years I've known many people who have looked back at an abortion with heartbreak and grief.

My first wife and I had a still-born baby. He would have been our third son. We named him Jesse Caleb. We were told just hours before the delivery was scheduled that there was no heartbeat. The baby would be delivered but he would be dead. I sat for about three hours in the delivery room and held beautiful Jesse Caleb. He looked perfect. However, the umbilical cord had gotten a kink in it, cutting off the oxygen supply and ending his life. At that time, I had never wept or grieved any harder than I did at the loss of my beautiful child. Losing Jesse made me so very grateful for my two sons Jared and Zachary. Today they are both grown men serving in our military.

As I held my child I could never have dreamed of killing him prior to his birth. I do not believe anyone holding a newborn baby would decide to kill that baby. However, many have made the decision to terminate a pregnancy. Most often they are in need of counseling, emotional support, forgiveness and hope.

Years earlier we lost twins. Karen was about three months pregnant at the time. Things were going wrong with the pregnancy and she was bleeding. The doctor said things were not good and a D&C was necessary. This was a decision that was made between our family and the doctor. What if someone from the county or even the Federal Government had to be consulted before the D&C took place? We were obviously miscarrying the babies.

A government official could have delayed the procedure, wanted more information, said no or said yes. I do not believe the Federal Government or any government official should be involved in this process. I do not believe in abortion as a form of birth control. However, I do believe that decisions concerning pregnancies and abortions must be made between the mother, the family, and the doctor.

Women and couples make decisions to abort that are later regretted with more sorrow and emotional scars. For many years I served as a pastor and heard many sorrowful stories from women who had abortions and greatly regretted them.

There are cases that involve the mother's health. There are the cases that involve rape and incest. In these types of cases, decisions must be made between the mother, the family, physician and counselor.

"Thank you" letter for all who helped with the Butler veterans celebration

Dear Editor,

This is a great thank you for what went on in Butler, Ky., on May 27, 2013 for the Veterans in Pendleton County and all over Kentucky. God, you helped this Dumb-Hillbilly so much to make this a great event. The great lady Mrs. Alice Smith, the mayor of Butler, did so much to help the veterans too. Thank all that helped so this was the greatest day for our Veterans in Butler, Ky. Please don't let it stop, O.K.?

The awards that were given to the two great W.W.II ladies, Mrs. Ann Delaney and Mrs. Henrietta Manor were so, so great; also two awards were given to veterans from Flour Creek and Butler Baptist. God thank you for waking up some of the American people. This Dumb-Hillbilly would like to thank you from his heart all the great people that helped me for 11 years with the schools in Pendleton County. Please if you read this great Outlook paper, send them a thank you card and say God Bless You all so much. You all know why Pendleton County is #1 in Kentucky for our great veterans who have given all of us our freedom.

Thank you to the great people with their great donations for a great day, May 27, 2013, Butler. Napier Pallet, Inc., Hilltop Stone - John Steele, P.C.S. Club, Donnie Johnson, Michael Redden, ## Watery eyes: Spring allergies?

Each spring, as Kentuckians welcome the long-awaited change of the season, spring also brings the unwelcome discomfort of seasonal eye allergies. Symptoms include swollen eye lids, dry eye, bloodshot eyes, or itchy, watery eyes.

According to the Kentucky Optometric Association (KOA), irritation occurs when the eye comes in contact with pollen, dander, smog and mold. The body's immune response includes the release of the chemical histamine, which causes the redness, burning and itching associated with eye allergies.

"People who experience eye allergy symptoms should visit their local eye doctor," said Dr. Max Downey, an optometrist in Campbellsville. "We can provide a proper diagnosis, so patients can receive the best treatment, which could range from over-the-counter allergy drops to prescriptive medicines."

In addition, the KOA offers the following tips to help reduce the discomfort of seasonal eye allergies:

- Maintain a healthy diet: Foods rich in anti-oxidants, including spinach, kale, broccoli carrots and red peppers, help improve the immune system and combat the symptoms of eye allergies.

- Use preservative-free lubricating eye drops: Although antihistamines can help with typical symptoms like runny noses and sneezing, doctors of optometry warn those medications can make eye symptoms worse by reducing tear quality and quantity. The KOA recommends using preservative-free eye drops or, if you wear contact lenses, rewetting drops.

- Take fish oil supplements: Omega-3 fish oil also has anti-inflammatory properties that can help reduce redness and irritation.

- Apply a cold compress: This will provide quick, temporary relief from itching and redness by constricting the blood vessels that are releasing histamine in the eyes.

Downey also said simple steps such as not touching or rubbing your eyes; washing your hands often with soap and water; and washing bed linens and pillowcases in hot water and detergent to reduce allergens will help allergy sufferers.

Fireflies provide nighttime beauty; help control some garden pests

Remember how much fun it was to chase fireflies when you were young? Once you caught a firefly, you would hold it in your hand to watch the flickering light for a few moments and then release it unharmed to fly away.

Interestingly, fireflies do more than generate entertaining childhood memories; they also help control some pests in the garden. On summer nights, glow worms (luminescent firefly larvae) often emerge from their underground homes to forage for food. A typical menu includes slugs, snails and caterpillars including cutworms. The larvae feed much like a spider by injecting a paralyzing toxin into their prey; then, injecting digestive juices to dissolve the prey and allow it to be more easily consumed. The adults probably feed on plant nectar to sustain their energy requirements.

There are several theories about why fireflies glow. One is that the flashing light is a homing beacon for the opposite sex. The male flies around flashing the signal to attract a female's attention. A female on the ground or on low-growing foliage will signal back when a male visits her vicinity. To avoid confusion, each firefly species has its own specific signal to attract a mate.

Another theory is that firefly larvae use their luminescence to warn a potential predator that they taste bad. Larvae contain defensive chemicals in their bodies. When disturbed, larvae also increase their glow's intensity and frequency.

Typical nighttime habitats for adults and larvae take place in rotting wood or other forest litter, or on the edges of water sources such as streams, ponds, marshes and ditches. The highest species diversity is in tropical Asia and Central and South America. Incidentally, some Asian species have tracheal gills that enable them to live under water where they feed on aquatic snails.

To attract fireflies to your property, reduce or eliminate lawn chemicals. Add low, overhanging trees, tall grass and similar vegetation to give adult fireflies a cool place to rest during the day. Reduce extra lighting on your property because this light interferes with fireflies' luminous signals, making it harder for them to locate mates in the area. Fireflies also determine the time of night they'll flash by the intensity of ambient light. This is why you don't see many fireflies flashing on clear nights with a full moon.

Learning and fun during the summer for children and parents

Even though school is out for most of Kentucky's young people, learning thrives through play during the summer. You can do many educational and fun activities with your children to keep their minds working and imaginations flowing during the summer.

An easy way to keep your child's mind sharp is to encourage play. Studies show playtime has an important role in child development. Independent play can help children learn critical thinking and life skills as well as develop creativity.

Play is not only for your children. Studies show that parents who participate in unscheduled playtime with their children are seen as more supportive, nurturing and productive.

Play includes many different facets, and not every one will fit all children. Children of various ages and genders enjoy different things. Older children may enjoy playing board games or cards. Younger children may like playing with dolls or cars and trucks. Some children may want to participate in organized activities like camps or sports teams while others are more interested in free play activities, such as hopscotch, running through a sprinkler or creating sidewalk art. Many children enjoy quiet activities like writing, reading, drawing and construction toys, and yet others like more physical activities like tag and hide-and-go seek.

Embark on family projects together. The projects not only are educational for your child, but you may learn something new in the process. Some examples of projects include growing a garden, reading a book, teaching outdoor skills or preparing a meal. Children can learn responsibility, time management, mathematics, science and improve reading skills through these projects.

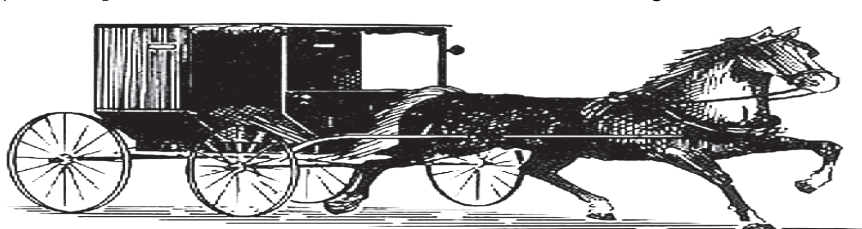

Get outside of the house and enjoy the environment around you. Take your child on a nature walk and identify the insects, trees and plants you see. Talk about the role of each in the ecosystem. In addition to being educational, this type of activity will help your child develop an appreciation for the natural environment. Also, it's a great chance for physical activity. Teenagers may be interested in exploring various volunteer opportunities in your community. They can develop responsibility and leadership skills while bettering their community.

Children also need social interaction with their peers. In fact, a great deal of learning occurs when children play together. You can provide your child with an opportunity for social interaction by letting them attend camps that may explore some of their interests or hobbies. 4-H offers some great summer camps for young people who are interested in learning about nature, science, technology and life skills. In addition to camps, 4-H offers several projects and clubs throughout the year that young people can participate in at the county and state levels.

While it's good to involve your child in activities, you should understand that too many events can overwhelm some children. Every child is different. Some may thrive with hectic schedules, but many become anxious or stressed out and prefer quiet, less-structured activities. It's important to find the balance in scheduling activities for your child. Children learn best when they are allowed to freely choose play activities that engage their imaginations.

Give your children the gifts of free play time and your attention to their interests. By doing so, you are nurturing your relationship with them and their summer learning at the same time. For more information on ways to make summertime learning enjoyable for your child, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Thursday morning the children all slept in a little longer. It was their first day of not having to go to school for the summer.

Daughter Susan and I attended the school picnic. After the awards were presented to the children everyone moved outside to do the various activities planned for the last day of school. A picnic lunch was served to everyone and then the children enjoyed the "Slip and Slide" on the hill. It was chilly in the morning but by lunchtime it was warmer and the water on the slide cooled everyone off.

It was nice to take a break since the last few weeks have been busy cleaning and preparing for church services. Verena has now completed the 8th grade and is finished with her school years. We attended her graduation on Monday evening. This fall Benjamin, 13, will be an eighth grader. Loretta, 12, will be in 7th grade. Joseph, 10, will be in middle school as a 5th grader. Lovina will be in third and Kevin, 7, will be in second grade.

Meanwhile, we put a lot of rhubarbs into juice this week. That will make a lot of good drinking during the summer months. It seems to quench your thirst on those hot summer days.

I want to cut out my suit for nephew Noah's wedding which is next Tuesday already. Daughter Elizabeth has hers cut out so might need to help her with hers since she's working at the factory. Elizabeth and Timothy will be tablewaiters at the wedding. I have to help cook on Saturday and I will also go help bake pies for the wedding.

On Sunday morning it was nice and sunny for our church services. By 9 a.m., when the services started, our basement was filled with people from our church district as well as the many guests from other church districts. I don't remember our basement ever being this filled with people for church services. There were even a few families missing from our own district. We appreciated the many friends and relatives coming in honor of our daughters Elizabeth and Susan, and Susan's friend Mose, starting instructions for baptism. What an encouragement to them to see so much support. Lord willing they will be baptized this fall after following instruction every two weeks until then.

Our church lunch menu consisted of homemade wheat and white bread (which the women from our church baked 50 loaves for me), butter, strawberry jam, freezer pickles, dill pickles, red beets, hot peppers, peanut butter spread, cheese, summer sausage, egg salad, coffee and tea, along with a variety of cookies of which quite a few hundred were also brought in.

Sister Emma made the many gallons of iced tea from the spearmint and peppermint tea leaves out of her garden. It was delicious and took a lot of work off my hands to have this all prepared.

We had a good-sized crowd back for supper and our menu was potluck potato casserole, grilled hot dog sandwiches, lettuce salad, homemade bread, egg salad, pickles, hot peppers, jello cake, chocolate cake and chocolate pie, coffee, and iced tea. Church services will be held here again on June 16. God's blessings to all.

I'll share my potluck potato recipe

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 pounds potatoes, peeled (4 cups)
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

The Amish Cook

POTLUCK POTATO CASSEROLE

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 pint sour cream
- 2 cups diced Velveeta Cheese
- 2 cups crushed corn flakes
- 1/4 cup melted butter

DIRECTIONS:

Cut up potatoes and cook until almost tender. Add 1/2 cup butter, salt, pepper, onion, soup, sour cream and cheese. Blend thoroughly. Pour into greased 5 quart casserole dish. Top with corn flakes mixed with 1/4 cup butter. Bake at 350 for 45 minutes.

With summer quickly approaching many hunters are anticipating the start of another archery season

June is the halfway point on the calendar and is highlighted by the longest day of the year; the official start of summer on Friday, June 21 this year.

For Kentucky's 90,000 plus archery deer hunters, the Summer Solstice seems to trigger another seasonal phenomenon - the need to get ready for the upcoming hunting season.

Kentucky's 136-day archery deer season opens in late summer, this year 15 days before the first day of fall. The season dates are Sept. 7, 2013 through Jan. 20, 2014.

The signs are everywhere across rural Kentucky that deer season is not that far off: mast is beginning to grow on trees in the woods, fields are lush with clover and tall grass. Deer fawns are becoming more visible and bucks are growing back their antlers with renewed vigor. When deer season opens, deer will still be in their summer pattern and highly visible while feeding late in the day in fields.

For avid archery hunters, it's never too early to think deer. Late June is a good time to get organized by checking out equipment and adding new accessories. Start practicing, even if it's been months since the last hunt of last season.

For archers who don't shoot year-round, here's a checklist to study in preparation for the upcoming season.

Take your hunting bow to a trusted technician now and have it checked out, top to bottom, especially the bow string.

"Most people wait until it's too late," said Tommy Downey, owner of 4-D Archery in Henry County. "The string may look okay, but it may be weakened under the center serving (where the arrow nock is attached)."

Downey said bow strings can also stretch over time and hundreds of shots. "That gets the bow out of tune, so that it shoots erratically and inconsistently."

If you plan to change vital equipment, don't wait, do it now. "For most people it takes about a month to adjust to a new arrow rest or bow sight," said Downey. "It takes longer than you would think to sight in your bow when there's been a change in equipment."

Inspect arrows carefully. Make sure they are straight and free of cracks. Replace damaged fletching or nocks and be certain that the weight of your field points (practice points) are the same weight as your hunting broadheads. Set aside one broadhead for practice. As opening day of archery deer season approaches, sight in your bow with your practice broadhead.

When you start practicing, take it slow. "Don't shoot too many arrows at first," said Downey. "Ease into it."

Older archers might consider turning down the poundage or the draw weight of their compound bows and just shoot a few arrows a day, to build muscles back up.

Sloppy practice is bad practice, even in the beginning. Concentrate. Get back into the rhythm of archery.

When the season opens and you draw on that first deer, your mind and body should be on autopilot. Archery is part mental, part muscle memory. Be ready.

BLANKET CREEK

It was a great day at church. Addyson Crouch played the piano and sang "Amazing Grace." Bro. Joe's text was from Acts 3:6 and was titled "Such as we have." We have the kingdom of God - we are heirs and joint heirs to Christ. Christians have the truth so let's proclaim it; the devil has no power over us. We have a testimony - let's not lose it. We have talent - let's not bury our talent - use it for God's glory. We have temptations - but we have a way to escape them. We have trials - trials come to make us stronger. We have time - let's not waste it. We should be established with God. God is faithful.

We added today: Maurice, April Jenkins, Gay Wynn and the families of Jim Conrad and Keevil Hart.

BUTLER BAPTIST

I Peter 1:3-5 tells us about hope. Our source of hope is God the father of Jesus. We must be born again by salvation in Jesus. The resurrection proves that Jesus is who He said He was. We are adopted as a son or daughter of God. This is our inheritance of hope. Our inheritance does not perish or fade away. Our assurance of hope is through faith and salvation. Come Sunday as we continue to explore the Bible.

BUTLER METHODIST

Fathers Day was pastor David and Rachel's last Sunday with us. We wish them all the best at their new post at NKU campus. Parting is bittersweet, we love David and Rachel and are happy for their new opportunity but we will miss them. Brian Davis will be joining us at the end of the month to begin his service with us. We are excited about having such a devoted person to be our shepherd. Welcome to the Davis family.

Jim Kyle spent this past week at Annual Conference in Covington with Brian and David.

Many thanks to all who helped make our Vacation Bible School such a roaring success. Lots of work went into making the scenery, the crafts, the food, the lessons and the discovery sessions. We have such dedicated people at this church.

We were happy to have David's parent in from Baton Rouge last Sunday.

Please pray for the Conrad family, the Hart family, for Ken and Brenda in the loss of Ken's dad Don, David's grandmother broke her hip, Mary Ann's son-in-law, Randy Bishop, Jason Palmer, Gary Seibel's son and granddaughter, Donnie Wright

Jr. (back surgery) and Dorothy Taylor. Praise for Ashton's surgery going well, safe trip for Jim and Carol, Kyle is 25, Pat Taylor appreciation.

Have a good week and may God Bless You.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

We had another great week at Falmouth Baptist Church. Everyone has rested and recovered from another fabulous Vacation Bible School. Again, a big thank you to all the workers who made Kingdom Rock VBS happen.

Sunday morning we were blessed to have the Punches' Family with us. They presented an amazing gospel/bluegrass concert. We thank God for the talent He has given them and ask Him to continue to bless their ministry.

We just began a new Sunday school year. This would be a great time to become involved in a Sunday school class. We have a class that is perfect for you.

Our youth group is at Centrifuge summer camp at Carson Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee this week. We ask that you keep our young people and our leaders in your prayers. May God move in a mighty way in their lives!

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Bro. Rick's message was from Psalms 26:1-12, "Trust and Faithfulness."

"Judge me, O Lord; for I have walked in my integrity, I have trusted also in the Lord, therefore I shall not slide. For thy loving kindness is before mine eyes. I have walked in thy truth. I have hated the congregation of evildoers and will not set with the wicked. Gather not my soul with sinners, nor in whose hands is mischief and their right hand is full of bribes." KJV

The high school valedictorian boy who tore up his speech to say the Lord's Prayer is a true Christian. He was willing to give up the spotlight to show the light in him for God. What a wonderful blessing he gave to everyone, as the audience cheered for him. Our actions should show everyday that we are Christians.

Pray for the sick, the lost, our military and our country to become a Christian Nation.

Vacation Bible School: Registration is from 6:15-6:30 p.m. and VBS from 6:30-8:30 p.m., Tuesday thru Friday, June 18-21. For ages 3 years to the fifth grade.

A canoe trip will be Saturday, June 22. Please call the church at 859-654-2741 for time and pricing.

There will be no youth group

Southside Founder's Day Celebration

Southside Church of Christ, 20 Southside Church Road, Falmouth, will be holding a Founder's Day Celebration on Sunday, June 23.

Sunday school will be held at 9 a.m. followed by Worship Service at 10 a.m.

There will be special music, great preaching and a potluck meal.

You can call the church at 859-654-8827 for more information.

Thursday, June 20.

HARVEST

To look for God in something big may be to miss Him because He is often found gently whispering in the quietness of a humbled heart. Are you listening for God? Step back from the noise and activity for his guidance. It may come when you least expect it. I Kings 19:1-16.

We had another year of a successful VBS. Many thanks to everyone who helped in any way, especially our youth. We sometimes grumble giving up our "precious" time, but at the week's end, we see results of the "precious" time teaching God's word to young hearts and minds.

Prayer concerns: John Roseberry, Bobby Mitchell, Linda Daugherty, Sharon Wegford, Edwin "Chipper" Magee, Jessie Beckett, Linda Jones, Joyce Campbell, Ray Sheehawk, Bryce Crowley, Bryce Hill, Amy and Nick Parker (mission trip to Africa).

Blessings for a wonderful week.

LIFECHURCH 146

Services began with the praise team bringing us to worship with some amazing songs. "Blessed be the name," a song that says it all. Special guest Megan Downing blessed us with her beautiful singing of "He is here." Thank you Megan!

The message brought to us by Pastor Wes Cain was taken from Ephesians 2:20-22. God tells us that if we build our church on Jesus Christ as the cornerstone, then we can become complete in the standard of Christ. There are five gifts God gives us to obtain this goal as a church; apostles, prophets, evangelist, pastors and teachers. Through the inspired Word of God, the Bible, God uses scriptures throughout to teach us how these gifts work. In Amos 3:7 it says that God reveals His plan to the prophets. In II Timothy 4:5 it tells us how to do our work as an evangelist. Mark 16:15, Jesus tells us to go and preach. I Corinthians 12:7-11 explains the gifts God gives each of us. Although as individuals we all fall short, as it states in the Bible, with these gifts and learning through these scriptures, as a church we can rise to the challenge God puts before us to lead others to Him and become able to meet the standards of Christ.

We pray that LifeChurch 146 becomes a healing station with God and through us as His church in this community. We also pray that as a church, God will reveal these gifts in individuals that will allow this church to become complete in the standards of Christ.

We look forward to seeing you there next week to worship with us at 11 a.m.

MT. CARMEL

Our youth have been serving with the KY Changers, they will be returning home June 15.

In honor of our fathers, there was a father/son prayer breakfast in the fellowship hall.

Short Creek

"Grab your tickets and head on over to Colossal Coaster World! Come join us as we experience the thrill and excitement of a day at the park! As we explore the park, kids will enter Worship Rally at the Main Gate and stop at Coaster Alley for Bible study. While touring the park, kids will also visit the Cotton Candy Café

"The one who says he is in the Light and yet hates his brother is in the darkness until now."

~ I John 2:9

We will be having a "Singspiration" during the evening services on June 30. If you plan on sharing a song there is a sign-up sheet on the platform.

VBS will be June 23-28. Let's pray for our workers as they sacrificially give of their time, trying to make a difference in the lives of children. Also, pray that many of the children will come to know Christ as Savior. VBS commencement will be Friday, June 28.

MT. GILEAD

Spring is here in full swing. Grass is growing so fast making it difficult to keep up with the mowing chores. Garden is growing, flowers are blooming and birds are singing. What more could you want?

Something more important is waiting for everyone - A spring walk with Jesus. If that doesn't lift your spirit nothing will. At least give it a try.

We had our second Sunday service last week. Sorry it was too late for this article. Will include in next weeks article.

I'm already looking forward to our big August meeting on the eighteenth. Good food, music and friendly people make for a wonderful afternoon. Mark your calendars today!

Have you taken time to think about the life Jesus had with the few years He had here on earth? We don't see a lot of joy in the Bible, however we do know He enjoyed the children, the memories of old and new friends. From what I can see Jesus led a hard life. Some didn't like Him or what He taught. His waking travels don't appear to be comfortable walks with friends and opposition against His teachings was constant.

Yet, He came, lived a rough life and died on a cross. A terrible death, but He did it for you.

How are you going to accept this wonderful gift? Answer - Follow His teaching and prepare to say "Thank You" when you meet in heaven. God Bless.

MT. MORIAH

Sunday, June 9, was a lovely day at Mt. Moriah. We can certainly see God's work in the trees, flowers and grass this spring. The roses have been outstanding.

The fifth Sunday disciples' meeting will be held at Mt. Moriah at 7 p.m. on June 7. A program is being planned.

We are looking forward to September 6 - 8. A three evening event, led by Bro. Breeden "Prospector Pete," will be held for young people to "get excited for Christ." The event will be called "Kids' Crusade for Christ."

The choir enjoyed singing a very old hymn, "I am Bound for the Promised Land," for their anthem.

We were so happy to have Elwood Moore back in church. He has suffered a long illness. Mandy Doan Gastright was added to our prayer list as she will be having surgery on June 11. Julie Utz, and the congregation are rejoicing over Julie's son returning home from his military duties. We thank him and pray for him as he adjusts to civilian life.

Have a beautiful week and take time to smell the roses.

"Give thanks to the Lord, Call on His name; make known His deeds among the nations; proclaim that his name is exalted." Isaiah 12:4

NEW HOPE

This time of the year should remind us of how dependent we are on God. We want our gardens and our crops to grow. While there are many things that we can do to help this process, there are many things out of our control. One of those elements is the weather. We depend upon rain and the sun to help our crops to grow in order to have food. Since we cannot control those two factors we pray to God to provide it. As you watch your garden this year, remember how God is good to you by providing these things and give Him the praise for it. Join us this Sunday as we thank God for all of our blessings.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and fellowship. Sunday school starts at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is at 7 p.m. on Thursdays.

Upcoming opportunities: Vacation Bible School will begin on June 19 and run thru the 22; there will be a CrossFire Crew meeting at 5:30 p.m. on June 26 and going to Kings Island on the June 27; and we will be going to Coney Island June 29.

"And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting." Acts 2:2

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

God made us all with free will, but parents are to raise their children in the fear and admonition of the Lord. But remember, they will be accountable for themselves. We pray what they have been taught, they will remember.

Congrats and best wishes to Jason Herron and Tiffany Wells upon their marriage.

Looking ahead to a birthday-patriotic bash, July 7 evening.

Our VBS "Hay Day" is July 12 evening, 13 and 14 mornings, with a hayride to follow Sunday morning.

Prayer concerns include Beryl Mattox (cataract surgery 12th), Kenneth Harper (St. E Ft. Thomas), Zelma King, Larry Wright, June Clifford, Tom Askin (surgery 20th), Charley Herron, Jenny Taylor, Sean Ruppee, Betty Pugh, Karen Connelly, Kaye Williams, Patty Wolfe, Noretta Askin, Beverly Salerno, Marge Logan, Florine Hiles, Eudell Hall, our shut-ins, armed forces, and our leaders.

Our sympathy to loved ones of Bro. James Conrad, Shonda Meyer and Keevil Hart.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Several families were on vacation. Prayers for a safe journey as they travel.

Thank you to all members who brought in pictures for the Father's Day table. Remembering your loved ones brings a smile and warms your heart.

Thanks to those who took Care Net Baby Bottles home and filled them with change.

Sherry & Rachel Dewald and Doshia Baker will be lighting the "Flame of Hope" at Relay for Life during the opening ceremonies Friday, June 21. Many prayers have been answered in this family as all three are cancer survivors. God is good!

A Community Sing has been planned for 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 22. Bring lawn chair and join us at Pleasant Ridge.

Our Sunday evening Bible study is in Genesis.

Plans are underway for VBS, from 6:30-8:30, July 14-19. Ages three years through the sixth grade. Colossal Coaster World.... Facing Fear, Trusting God. Dare to....Change, Speak Up, Believe, Stand Strong and Trust!

SOUTHSIDE CHRISTIAN

Southside will be hosting the "Founder's Day Celebration" during the morning worship service June 23. We encourage all members of Southside Church of Christ, both current and past members, to come to Southside Church of Christ on June 23. Sunday School will be at 9 a.m. and the morning worship service will begin at 10 a.m. We will have special music, great preaching, and a potluck meal after the morning worship service. Mark your calendars and plan to attend.

May God Bless You, and Have a Wonderful Day!

TRINITY

Are you ready for the ride of your life? Let's remember to trust God as we face the fears in life. Thanks to all the parents that allowed their children to come to VBS at Trinity and all the workers that helped the kids look up as they go through the roller coaster called life. Thanks to our guest speaker from Master Provisions that showed us through I Samuel 3:1-20 and Hebrews 11:1-3 that God can use anybody if we listen to God, then respond with "yes."

Do you have some items you don't need and want to donate to help others? Trinity is having a yard sale July 26-27. All proceeds from the yard sale goes to Master Provision that gives us the opportunity to show God's love as we meet the needs of the community through giving food.

TURNER RIDGE

We started our service celebrating the Ordinance of Baptism on Sunday, June 9. We welcome Rhonda and Kristin into our church family. We had prayer for those in need and sang hymns of praise, Madi Lawson read scripture, Acts 9:3-6. Uncle Dale led the children's message "Facing Fear Trusting God."

As you read this article Turner Ridge will be in the middle of Vacation Bible School. We will be on the ride of a lifetime-the Colossal Coaster! We ask that you pray for our workers and for those attending, that each one will get a better understanding of how they can "Face Fear & Trust God." "For God has not given us a spirit of fearfulness, but one of power, love and sound judgment." II Timothy 1:7.

The world we live in is full of things that bring us fear, but with faith in God we can get through anything!

PLAINTIFF

v. COMMISSIONER'S SALE

TIMOTHY BISHOP
UNKNOWN SPOUSE, IF ANY, OF TIMOTHY BISHOP

DEFENDANT'S

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale the Pendleton Circuit Court rendered May 16, 2013 in the above action, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Pendleton County Judicial Center at Falmouth Kentucky to the highest and best bidder at public auction on June 20, 2013 at the hour of 10:00 a.m. the following described property:

Group No. None
PIDN No. 079-00-00-004.01
Property Address: 1970 Milford Road, Falmouth, KY 41040

Beginning at a point in the Falmouth and Milford Pike, a corner to Mrs. Harvey Jeff and with her line N 76-15 E, 157 feet to a post; Thence S 17-45 E, 155 feet to a post; Thence S 71-30 W, 156 feet to a point in the Falmouth and Milford Pike and with same N 17-45 W, 163 feet to the beginning, containing 0.75 acres, more or less.

Subject to conditions, covenants, restrictions, rights of way and easement in existence, including, but not limited to those in prior instrument of record; legal highways and zoning ordinances, if any.

Being the same property conveyed to Timothy Bishop, unmarried, from Farmers National Bank, a National Banking Association, by deed dated November 30, 2006, of record in Deed Book 282, Page 359, in the records for Pendleton County, KY.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $71,758.52 together with interest at the rate of 5.250% per annum from May 1, 2013 until the date of Judgment; plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and Plaintiff's costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee in the amount of $1,150 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the Defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the Mortgage instrument.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

THINKING OUT LOUD

Practicing the Presence of God

"Surely the Lord is present in this place, and I did not know it!" The words are from Jacob, the ancient patriarch. Barbara Brown Taylor quotes them in her most recent book, An Altar in the World (New York: HarperOne, 2009). Barbara, who gave the commencement address to our 2013 graduating class, goes on to say: "People encounter God under shady oak trees, on riverbanks, at the tops of mountains, and in long stretches of barren wilderness. God shows up in whirlwinds, starry skies, burning bushes, and perfect strangers" (12-13).

Theological doctrines usually trail along in the wake of the encounter with God, but we should never forget that the doctrines were not intended to replace the God we encounter or the practice of the presence of this God.

According to Father Andrew Greeley, "The theological voice wants doctrines, creeds, and moral obligations. I reject none of these. I merely insist that experiences which renew hope are prior to and richer than propositional and ethical religion and provide the raw power for them." Greeley, who died last week, argued that religion "is the result of two incurable diseases from which humankind suffers - life, from which we die, and hope, which hints that there might be more meaning to life than a termination in death." Peter Steinfeld, in his obituary for Greeley (New York Times, May 30, 2013), comments, "Before religion became creed or catechism... it was poetry: images and stories that defy death with glimpses of hope, and with moments of life-renewing experience that were shared and enacted in communal rituals."

As a theologian, I have often reflected on the role of theological doctrine in the Christian life. Not everyone thinks theology is a good or even faithful endeavor.

For instance, Franz Overbeck, a Church historian and close friend of Friedrich Nietzsche, believed that theology was in fact the death of Christianity. Overbeck preceded Albert Schweitzer by several years in saying that the Christianity of the early church was apocalyptic and eschatological (that is, that Christian faith was about the end of history in Jesus Christ), and that this (what he believed to be) authentic Christianity died out when the last of the original disciples of Christ died without experiencing the second coming of Jesus. Overbeck influenced a number of theologians, not least Karl Barth, (Barth's Epistle to the Romans figured into last week's blog post). ## THE NATE JONES REPORT

By Jack Wright

Pendleton County's hometown Major League Baseball star, Nathan Andrew "Nate" Jones, is in his second season as a relief pitcher with the Chicago White Sox. Below are brief details of his in-game activities for the week ending June 16, 2013.

Monday, June 10, versus the Toronto Blue Jays: Entered the game in the top of the 5th inning (after an hour and ten minute fog delay in Chicago), no outs, runner on first base, Sox winning 7-6. First batter (Maicer Izturis) strikes out swinging. Second batter (Emilio Bonifacio) grounds into a shortstop to first base double play to end the inning. Sox do not score in the bottom of the 5th inning and Jones comes back out to pitch the top of the 6th. First batter (Munenori Kawasaki) singles softly to center field. Second batter (Melky Cabrera) hits ground ball to shortstop for an infield single putting runners on first and second base. Third batter (Jose Bautista) strikes out looking on a 99 MPH fastball. Fourth batter (Edwin Encarnacion) pops out to the first baseman. Jones is then replaced by a left handed throwing relief pitcher to face a left handed batter. The relief pitcher strikes out that batter to end the inning with the Sox still winning 7-6. Sox go on to win the game 10-6, and since the Sox starting pitcher did not complete five full innings, Jones records his second win of the season. One-and-two-thirds innings pitched; six batters faced; 15 pitches (13 strikes); two hits; zero runs, two strike outs.

Tuesday, June 11, versus the Toronto Blue Jays: Entered the game in the top of the 7th inning, one out, bases empty, Sox winning 5-4. First batter (Jose Bautista) strikes out swinging on a 99 MPH fast ball. Second batter (Edwin Encarnacion) walks. Third batter (Mark Derosa) strikes out swinging to end the inning. Sox do not score in the bottom of the 7th inning and Jones comes back out to pitch the top of the 8th. First batter (Rajai Davis) singles to right field. Jones is then replaced by a left handed throwing relief pitcher to face a left handed hitting batter. The relief pitcher gets out of the inning with no runs scored by the Blue Jays and the Sox still winning 5-4. Sox end up losing 7-5 in 10 innings. Two-thirds of an inning pitched; four batters faced; 19 pitches (10 strikes); one hit; one walk; zero runs; two strikeouts.

Saturday, June 15, versus the Houston Astros: Entered the game to begin the bottom of the 8th inning, Sox losing 4-3. First batter (Barndon Barnes) grounds out to third base. Second batter (Jose Altuve) grounds out to shortstop. Third batter (Jason Castro) strikes out swinging. Sox do not score in the top of the 9th inning and lose 4-3. One inning pitched; three batters faced; 10 pitches (8 strikes); zero hits; zero runs; one strike out.

Sunday, June 16, versus the Houston Astros: Entered the game in the bottom of the 6th inning, one out, runner on first base, Sox losing 3-1. First batter (Matt Dominguez) strikes out swinging. Second batter (Marvin Gonzales) after a wild pitch moves the runner to second base, grounds out to shortstop to end the inning. Sox score one run in the top of the 7th inning and Jones comes back out to pitch the bottom. First batter (Brandon Barnes) grounds out to shortstop. Second batter (Jose Altuve) is credited with an infield hit on a ground ball the shortstop threw on a bounce to first and the first baseman could not make the play. Jones is then replaced by left handed throwing relief pitcher to face a left handed hitting batter. The relief pitcher gives up a home run to the next batter scoring two runs (one credited to Jones), then ends the inning with the Sox losing 5-2. Sox score two runs in the top of the 9th inning and end up losing 5-4. One inning pitched; four batters faced; 15 pitches (10 strikes); one hit; one run (earned); one strike out; one wild pitch.

Jones' stats for the week: 4 games; 4.1 innings pitched; 17 batters faced; 59 pitches (41 strikes); 4 hits; 1 run (earned); 6 strike outs; 1 walk; 1 wild pitch; 1 win.

Jones' stats for the season: 28 games; 34.2 innings pitched; 141 batters faced; 558 pitches (349 strikes); 31 hits; 13 walks; 5 wild pitches; 34 strike outs; 2 home runs; 23 runs (20 earned); 5.19 earned run average; 2 wins; 4 losses.

Sox season record: 28 wins; 38 losses; last place American League Central Division; nine-and-one-half games behind the division leading Detroit Tigers.

MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

Job Description: Management Trainee for newspapers serving several regions in the Midwest

Do you love the media business? The Delphos Herald, Inc. is looking for several entry-level management trainees. The right candidate will learn all they need to know to run a community newspaper publishing operation. We are seeking savvy, hard-working self-starters with strong online computer skills, sales aptitude, excellent written and verbal communications skills, and good spelling ability. The right candidate must have great relationship skills and, above all, the competitive drive to win.

Starting salary is $24,000. Our average management trainee has doubled starting pay within a few years. The Delphos Herald, Inc. has locations in seven states and we need trainees to move into management positions at the locations in those states after an 18-month training period.

We offer an excellent compensation/benefits package, which includes most costs associated with relocating to our communities. This job is challenging and, while not for everyone, provides an opportunity to start a great career in the fast-changing media industry.

To apply, email rgeary@delphosherald.com. Please send a letter describing yourself and your accomplishments. Include details of experience from selling ads for your high school or college newspaper to being an officer of a club, scholastic honors earned or winning a cookie sales contest. Our screening process will include: aptitude tests and background checks, including credit history.
